

4 Hot Dogs Worth Clogging Your Arteries For

By POST STAFF | October 9, 2015

Forget street-cart dogs. On Oct. 17, the New York City Wine & Food Festival will hold its first Top Dog hot-dog battle at the Standard High Line. Eleven local vendors will duke it out with haute wieners. Have a look at some of the competitors.

Bacon cheddar dog is topped with house-smoked cheddar sauce, bacon and pickled red onions, from Bark (NYC locations at barkhotdogs.com).

The BAM dog is topped with lager-braised short-rib chili, crispy shallots and kale slaw, from BAMcafé (30 Lafayette Ave., Brooklyn).

The Italiano is topped with basil, mozzarella, arugula and balsamic mustard, from Big Daddy's (NYC locations at bigdaddysnyc.com).

The ShackDog is bacon-wrapped with Shack sauce and fried pickled jalapeños from Shake Shack (NYC locations at shakeshack.com).
