

STELLINA EVENTS

STELLINAEVENTS.BLOGSPOT.COM

FRIDAY, 6 MARCH 2009

Why go to Provence when NY is so much closer?

This is a location that would make any nature-loving bride and groom proud. If you dreamed of a wedding in the rolling Tuscan hills or the lavender fields of Provence but with the current economy have decided to plan a wedding closer to home or if you have relatives that can't travel so a destination wedding is not in the cards, then Wave Hill could be an absolutely spectacular option for you and you wouldn't have to give up any of that natural enchanting beauty. On the contrary, you can still have the wedding you always dreamed of without forsaking the location of your dreams. Wave Hill is a 28-acre public garden and cultural centre in the Bronx overlooking the Hudson River and Palisades. It has been designed to celebrate the artistry and legacy of its gardens, landscapes and magnificent views so why not take a look and see if you would like to celebrate the happiest day of your life there? Just imagine you, your fiancé and your loved ones on a warm late spring/early summer evening celebrating your marriage in the vast gardens overlooking the Hudson, drinking kir royals while the sun sets followed by a beautiful candlelit dinner....now, doesn't that sound magical?

For more information on Wave Hill, please go to:
www.wavehill.org/weddings/weddings.html

GREAT PERFORMANCES®