

Caramoor

We are always searching out amazing venues to share with you, so when Chris Humphreys Photography sent us this stunning New York Wedding, we definitely wanted to share.

Jen and Marco were married at Caramoor, which is primarily an outdoor venue with over 90 acres of woodland trails, rolling hills, sparkling vistas and a superabundance of exquisite flowering gardens. Sounds absolutely stunning to me. They have several areas where you can hold your event. The Rosen House sounded awesome, containing sculptures, paintings, 16th century tapestries, wrought iron stained glass, and carved pillars which are ideal for an exceptional wedding ceremony for 190 guests. Dinner may be held in the Formal Dining Room, which is lined in stunning 18th century Chinese wallpaper.

Jen and Marco also used another one of our favorite preferred vendors, Lyndsey Hamilton Events. The details were pure elegance from the flowers to menus to the place settings - Just Gorgeous! I adore the escort cards with the two love birds. You know we love the kissing birdies. Of course, a special nod to the cake - breathtaking.
